As a first step in addressing tax fairness and reform issues, clear information is needed. Currently, there is little to no public information available regarding corporate tax deals done with county or state political jurisdictions. All state and local subsidies to businesses and their deal brokers, accompanied by identifying information, should be reported and made publicly available. This information should be paired with outcome information, including campaign contributions by these businesses and the actual jobs added, their value, and taxes paid. These disclosures should be made both prospectively and then annually, tracked for the life of the deal.

Thank you
