Subject: Comment on corporate tax disclosure rule

I understand that you are accepting public comment on your proposed rule regarding disclosure of corporate taxes. Frankly, I think this discussion is far past due. The greed involved in the current system is crippling our nation, and it needs to stop.

I want disclosure of all state and local subsidies to businesses, the recipients and their brokers fully identified along with any fees paid, any campaign contributions by the companies and brokers and a rigorous accounting of how many jobs were added, if any. And I want disclosures to cover the entire period of each deal as well as annual snapshots. MY property taxes are right on the city website for anyone to look up if they like. Why can't I look up Kroger down the road?

Right now corporations have it reaaalllyyy good. They are "people" thanks to Citizens United, but they don't have any of the responsibilities of real citizens. I'm tired of it. Shed a little light and let's watch the roaches scuttle. Please.

One last thing - I just read that a town in Alaska is considering taxing its churches.....but corporations not so much? REALLY? (Don't get me wrong, churches are getting far too political and have kind of crossed that "separation of church and state" line, so probably ought to be taxed. Just not when corporations aren't).

Thank you for the opportunity to give you my opinion.
